Dixie: are groups aware of DA HOW intergroup losing it's intergroup status? - Domingo states that he has been told that DA HOW was denied intergroup status due to DA HOW not being a geographical intergroup. Domingo states he has spoken to members of the general service conference who have told him DA HOW losing intergroup status is "no bid deal" Domingo has countered this perspective, letting them know it is to the members serving at the DA HOW Intergroup

Eunice: what will we do since our intergroup status has been revoked? - Domingo - going on acting as intergroup for now

Michelle B.: how can we apply for intergroup status again? -
Domingo - we have applied and been denied intergroup status, we are working to re-establish our intergroup status.

Discussion continues as to what to do now that we are no longer recognized as an intergroup. Domingo states that we were suggested to operate as a group with each DA HOW meeting being a meeting of the group and rather than sending an Intergroup Service Representative we could send a General Service Representative. Domingo cites a case where the Brazilian DA intergroup is totally online and has an intergroup status, even though no meeting is held at a physical location, and Domingo asked if we simply added a geographical location to our name could we be an intergroup. Something that Domingo read between the lines was that the world service conference does not want a collection of DA Groups that have a different focus. Domingo reminds the group that this revocation of DA HOW Intergroup status began due to Business Debtors Anonymous wanting to create an intergroup, and they were denied, then BDA asked why DA HOW was allowed intergroup status so the world service decided to revoke the DA HOW intergroup status as “collateral damage”.

Eunice states that this is frustrating and asks who we are talking to. Domingo states that the Intergroup committee or caucus made this decision, the chair of the general service board communicated to us and the vice chair also attended a past DA HOW Intergroup meeting.

Domingo adds that he would welcome emails from members who would like to send an an email voicing concerns, sort of like “writing your congressman”.
